Provided more rain does not fall during the course of the afternoon, the Tobaccoists will play their opening home game this afternoon beginning at 4 o'clock, when they will meet the yet unbeaten Raleigh team. Whether the Capitals will remain unbeaten after today's game is a matter of conjecture but with Rodgers on the mound supported by Manager Abbott's fast bunch of fielders, even one of whom have proven their ability to hit the ball hard, Duncan's aggression will have to go some to win. Local boys John Rodgers can be depended on but should this prove an off day, Pitcher Green has been selected as first reserve twirler. Smith or Pippitt will be Manager Duncan's choice for the mound.

Workmen have been busy the entire morning preparing the grounds for this afternoon's game. The ground was burned off by the process of sprinkling it with gasoline and setting it on fire. The field will be in good playing condition by the time of the game provided there is no more rain this afternoon.

Although the chilly atmosphere is unfavorable to baseball fans, nevertheless a large crowd is expected to be on hand to witness the initial home game.

No double header will be undertaken here this afternoon. The other towns which were also unable to play yesterday on account of wet grounds will stage double headers today.

Finds Cystoscope Big Aid In Cancer

Dr. Buerger Announces a New and Successful Way of Treating Without Cutting.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 29.—Dr. Leo Buerger, New York surgeon, went to the defense of the radium treatment at the morning session of the American Urological Association meeting at the Hotel Ambassador today. He also announced a new and eminently successful method of treating without cutting, cancerous growths in parts of the body that have hitherto been highly inaccessible. This method employs Dr. Buerger's latest improved cystoscope, an instrument little known.

Several months ago, Dr. John Deaver, a noted Philadelphia surgeon, aroused considerable discussion by expressing doubt of the value of radium in cancer. Many surgeons have disputed his views, and Dr. Buerger today gave some striking instances of the efficacy of radium.

With the aid of the new appliances, Dr. Buerger said, it is possible to dispense with surgery in many cases. Where surgery is applicable, he said, it may be combined with radium, but there are many cases where a cutting operation cannot be borne. In such cases, radium, by the new appliance, can be introduced, directly under control of the eye to parts of the body to reach which the knife has always been needed.

Dr. Buerger said there are two ways of treating cancer by radium. One is by the use of radium in a permanent form and the other by inserting it in fine, needle-like glass tubes, these being retained in the growth, which thereby destroyed.

With the new instrument, he claims, wonderful results can be accomplished with either method. The cystoscope with a telescope and electric light attachment makes it possible for the surgeon to implant radium needles in any part of the body, reaching, for example, the prostate gland, or any part of the body, reaching, for example, the prostate gland, or any part of the body, reaching, for example, the prostate gland.

Asks Law Against Radio Ballyhooing

Conference Report Also Recommends Appointment of Board of Regulation.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—An advisory committee of twelve, to be appointed by the president, to assist the secretary of commerce control of the radio communication was recommended today in the final report of the recent national radio conference, as submitted to Secretary Hoover. The report approved the allocation of wave lengths made in the tentative report. The final report recommended the establishment of all radio transmitting stations, except amateur, experimental and government stations, and the operation of non-governmental radio transmitting stations.

Among other recommendations was that the secretary of commerce institute an immediate study of the best geographical distribution of broadcasting stations, with a view to attaining the best service with a minimum of interference. In cases where concentration of radio broadcasting stations is desired, he should assign suitable hours of operation to stations, the report said.

In cases of conflict between radio communication services, the conference recommended that the first consideration be given to the public not reached or not so readily reached by other communication services.

Direct advertising in radio broadcasting should be absolutely prohibited, and indirect advertising should be limited. Relative to amateurs, the conference recommended that the limits of the wave length allotted to them be confined to the 150 meter and the 275-meter wave lengths.

The conference also recommended the creation of inspectors to serve for $1 a year for the purpose of self-policing among the amateurs.

Angle Raises His Bid For Railway

While the bid offered by N. P. Angle of Rocky Mount, for the purchase of the 47 miles of railway known as the Franklin and Pittsylvania at the recent auction sale of the property has not been yet confirmed by the Franklin Circuit court the belief prevails that it eventually will be. The railway which was sold at the Franklin county seat for the benefit of creditors was knocked out to Mr. Angle for $8,000. He has since that time raised his bid to $12,000 in the hope of pacifying certain creditors who are said to be opposed to confirmation of the purchase at such a low price. Arguments were heard this week before Judge Peter Billman at Rocky Mount and will be continued some time next week. The court will probably act definitely during the month of May.

The outstanding liabilities against the Franklin and Pittsylvania railway at the time of the sale amounted to $75,000. The Norfolk and Western Railway company is said to be the largest creditor having undertaken from time to time to repair work to keep the road running during the waning days of its prosperity. It is further understood that the Norfolk and Western let it be known that if Mr. Angle would increase his bid and would undertake positively to operate the road after rehabilitating it that it would remove its objections to the sale of the road at the figure given. The road connects the Norfolk and Western railway with the Southern since the former road passes Rocky Mount, and the latter terminal while the Southern terminus is Gretna through which the main line of the Southern runs. The Southern owns that section of the line between Gretna and Pittsylvania which is a stretch of about 10 miles.

It is learned that Mr. Angle who is a large real estate owner in Rocky Mount, president of the Rocky Mount Furniture company and identified with numerous other industries there proposes to rehabilitate the road and to run it as soon as possible. He is one of the wealthy residents of Rocky Mount. The people of that community are greatly interested in the future of the road for if it is not operated it will suffer from the lack of competitive rates.

One plan which is being spoken of in connection with the F. & P. railway is to operate a motor train on the road which would transport rolling stock.

80 Gallons Of Liquor Seized In Martinsville

(Special to The Bee.)

MARTINSVILLE, Va., April 29.—A hard run by the Virginia State Police today morning intercepted a load of liquor which was being carried on an automobile driven by J. H. Keller, of Richmond. Road Improvement On Carolina Line

The contract for an extensive piece of road improvement in this vicinity is to be let early next month for the hard surfacing of two miles of the road between Stokesland and Reldsville, N. C. The road is to start where the present asphalt road passes under the railway bridge and it will be carried on from the Reldsville county line to the Stokesland county line. Greensboro good roads enthusiasts are interested in carrying the road into the Gate City in which event Danville will be joined to Greensboro by a hard road. The improvement contemplated is part of the North Carolina Commission's road programme for this year and it will represent an outlay of about $400,000.

56 Gallons Of Boozie and Dodge Car Are Captured

Fifty-six gallons of liquor and one Dodge roadster were found by Federal agents last night in a car captured by the U. S. Marshal, J. H. Martin, last night on the Batchelor's Hall road.

Acting on information, the officers stationed themselves at a point on the road a short distance beyond the Schoolfield bridge and there waited. The car that they were on the lookout for arrived on schedule time and the officers signalled the driver to stop. The signal was disregarded. Instead, the driver of the Dodge car speeded up and passed. The officers' car gave chase.

About a quarter of a mile down the road the liquor-laden car, swerved sharply to the right, up a steep bank and into the woods. The officers did not know whether the action was intentional or whether the driver lost control of his car.

The Dodge made the bank all right, but the left front wheel could not stand the strain and caved in.

When the officers arrived the driver, a white man, had made good his escape, lingering just long enough to take a can of liquor from the back of the machine and carry it off into the woods, probably to console himself for the loss of the rest of his boozie and the Dodge car.

However, the officers were soon so hot on his trail that he unloaded the can of liquor, accelerated his speed and successfully evaded pursuit.

PAINS SO BAD WOULD GO TO BED

Two Women Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Their Suffering

Iron Mountain, Mich.—"I had terrible pains every month and at times had to go to bed on account of them. I saw your advertisement and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with very good results. I can work all day long now at my sick time. You may use these facts as a testimonial and I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. A. H. GARLAND, 218 E. Brown St., Iron Mountain, Michigan.

Xenia, Ohio—"Every month I have such pains in my back and lower part of my abdomen that I could not lie quietly in bed. I suffered for about five years that way and was not regular either. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, so I decided to try it. It surely has helped me a lot, as I have no pains now and am regular and feeling fine."—Mrs. MARY DALE, Route 7, Xenia, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments. It is especially adapted to relieve women. If you suffer as did Mrs. Garland or Mrs. Dale, you should give this well-known medicine a thorough trial.

Invite Mr. Sands To Indicate Type Of Audience Here

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon spent more than an hour making motions, substitutes and offering amendments with respect to the invitations to Oliver J. Sands, head of the financial department of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association, and debating the various proposals informally but rather tenaciously. The outcome of the long and rather confusing discussion, from a parliamentary standpoint, was the adoption of a resolution directing Secretary Henry B. Watkins to write to Mr. Sands and ascertain from him whether he preferred to address a group of business men or a larger and more general audience. Mr. Sands had accepted an invitation extended by the Chamber to come here and make an address and had suggested May 11th, a date which was agreeable to the association.

The coming of Mr. Sands is the outcome of a growing feeling on the part of the Chamber that this city should get into closer touch with the Co-operative Marketing Association and offer its assistance or services in any way it can to that organization which is soon to inaugurate its first season under the pooling agreement. Younger members of the Chamber generally feel that this city through its representative business bodies should seek to secure the location by the co-operative association of one or more of its storage, redrying and rehandling plants in this city and to that end should direct attention to the suitable available properties here.

The resignations of Directors Plummer Wiseman and S. J. Owens were read by the secretary and after the board had heard and after the members were assured that it was their earnest desire to retire, the resignations were accepted and a committee consisting of Directors Nelson and Kaufman and Secretary Watkins was constituted to recommend successors.

When the report of the Roads Committee was called for, the Chamber adopted an informal report, reciting that the directors had been from the newspapers that the State Road Commission had allocated a considerable amount for the surfacing of the ten mile stretch of the Danville-Martinsville road. He also stated that the committee had been promised that work would begin Friday (yesterday) on the completion of the Milton road improvement.

Then attention was called to the condition of the River road within the city limits and Councilman Gardner had been asked for a statement, he assured the committee that the Council had already taken favorable action. He promised the directors that the results would show the superiority of the asphalt work.

None of the other committees had reports to submit and after having been sitting for nearly two hours the directors meeting over which president W. P. Boatwright had presided adjourned.

MOORE IS BOUND OVER TO AUGUST TERM OF COURT

The preliminary hearing in the case of S. B. Moore, charged with running over and killing Christiana Dix, age 18 months, daughter of Hurley Dix, of Purley, N. C., was held yesterday afternoon at Yanceyville and probable cause of involuntary manslaughter was found, defendant being committed to the August term of Superior Court for trial. A bond of $2,000 was required and made.

Moore was also given a hearing on the charge of assault, in connection with the same case, upon Miss Anna Dix, who was carrying the child in her arms at the time it was killed. In this case Moore was bound over for action of the August term of court, a bond of $500 being required and given.

A large crowd packed the Yanceyville courthouse where the hearing was held before Magistrates T. H. Hatchett, Arch Thomas and B. S. Graves. The hearing consumed but a short while, eye-witnesses telling how the accident actually occurred about two weeks ago. Moore's bare face of the tragedy which occurred while driving a car in which Charlie Mitchell was riding when he ran down Miss Weadon who was carrying the child, Christiana Dix, in her arms. K. K. K. Befriend Stranger Here

Another act of magnanimity by the local Ku Klux Klan came to light yesterday evening when it was learned that a stranger in Danville who had fallen upon evil times was befriended in the usual anonymous manner. The current story is this:

A traveling man, his wife, and two children recently became stranded in a local hotel. The man himself became ill after both of his children had been through a serious illness which drained their slender resources. In the hotel was a drummer—a Klansman from another city—who learned of their plight. The result was that on Thursday night the man in straitened circumstances was invited into a darkened room in the hotel where suddenly the electric lights were turned on, revealing four men robed in white, and silent. One of their number stepped forward and presented the stranger in Danville with a purse containing eighty dollars. A few brief remarks were made at the same time, in which the man was told that he need not think of repaying the money, but that he was to give the money to the Klansman who had helped him and his family train fare home.

The Klansman acted with successful secrecy. It was all news to the hotel manager, who said yesterday that none of the order so far as he was aware, had visited the hotel. He said he was unaware that he had a guest whose finances were so depleted.

LEVIATHAN'S THIRD STACK FOULLED U-BOAT COMMANDERS

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 28.—That the after stack on the Leviathan, repairing here, saved her from possible destruction by the Germans several times during the world war is the belief of marine men. The stack probably will be allowed to stand, although there is some talk of leaving only two stacks on the "President Harding," as the now is known.

The false stack is a mere shell, doors being cut in it at intervals. The Leviathan had only two stacks when she sailed from the Venable. The United States seized the craft in September, 1917, and the Germans made every possible attempt to keep her from being used. They wrecked her pretty badly, but she was repaired and commissioned as a transport.

German U-boat commanders were looking for a large two stacker having been instructed, the story goes, to sink the Leviathan in preference to any other craft traveling the seas. But while they looked for a two stacker, the giant three-stackers cut through the ocean with thousands of American troops.

There is a sentiment about this third stack, mariners say, which should save it if nothing else does. But the third stack, it is pointed out, does not increase the ship's speed, the craft a more trim appearance and thus may be taken into consideration.

Colonial Style Is Standard

The cost of this home would approximate $8,485, according to the designers, the Curtis Service Bureau, of Clinton, Ia. This estimate is given tentatively, as it must be remembered that building costs vary in different localities.

One gets the impression of a large house, and yet it is only 34 feet 8 inches wide by 25 feet deep, occupying no more ground space than do most of the characterless dwellings that line most of our streets. In any neighborhood, this home would do credit to its owner's good taste, because it is in line with the best practices in architecture. All who have studied houses must have observed that there is always a return to the Colonial, and that this tendency is especially noticeable at the present time.

The layout of this house is severely rectangular, with strictly plain wall and roof surfaces, which means the greatest possible amount of room for the given expenditure. Notice the neatly molded cornice, the balanced chimneys and the symmetrical openings, all of which are typical of style. Because of the simplicity of the exterior, the attention is focused on the front entrance, the only place where elaboration is allowable. This entrance is particularly effective, with its eight-paneled Dutch door divided into upper and lower halves, side lights, and splendidly proportioned elliptical transom. It can be obtained in price as one might think.

Wide siding, painted white, is most attractive for homes of this general character. Attractive touches are color are introduced in the blue-green blinds, stained shingle roof, and brick copings of the cement chimneys. Exterior doors and mountings in the 12-

100 Gallon Still Was Captured

Federal and county officers captured a 100-gallon copper still and arrested one man near South Boston yesterday morning. The still was new and one of the best that has been found recently. The still was just found in the cold drizzling rain until 10 a. m. Friday morning for the moonshiners to put in their appearance. At 10 o'clock a negro, named William Young, at first thought, put in his appearance and was arrested. Second, though decided the negro to change his name to Cliff Rowe, and the officers knew of Cliff by reputation, which is a bad one. Cliff evidently bethought himself of this and finally gave his name as Carter Stafford.

Fourteen hundred gallons of beer in three five hundred gallon fermenters were found, as was full equipment for running a first-class still.

NEWBY ELECTED HEAD OF TEMPLARS

NEW ORLEANS, April 28.—After electing officers for three years and selecting Seattle, Wash., as the next convention city, the thirty-fifth convocation of the Knights Templar came to a close today. Lodges F. H. Hetter, of Meriden, Conn., grand treasurer (re-elected); F. H. Johnson, of Louisville, Ky., grand recorder; Bishop Charles B. Mitchell, of St. Paul, was appointed to the post of grand prophet; other appointments were: F. H. Hetter, of Kansas City, grand sword-bearer; A. J. Agnew, of Milwaukee, grand warden; G. T. Campbell, of Owosso, Mich., grand standard-bearer; and John F. Hall, of Jacksonville, Fla., grand captain of the guard.

Chicago commanderies won four of the five prizes offered for best drilled teams in exhibition drills. Englewood commandery No. 30, Chicago, declared 98.9 per cent perfect, won first prize; Columbia commandery No. 63, of Chicago, was awarded second prize, with a score of 95.4 per cent; Chicago commandery No. 19 was third with 93.2 per cent.

Ten teams, representing every section of the United States, participated in the drills.

The plan worked out by retiring Grand Master Orr, by which $400,000 would be expended annually for the education of American girls and boys, was adopted at the closing session of the convocation. It was decided to appropriate $100,000 immediately to start the idea. Members of the order will be assessed $1 a year.

Other officers elected were William M. Norris, of Manchester, Iowa, deputy grand master; G. W. Vallery, of Denver, Colo., grand generalissimo; William L. Sharp, of Chicago, grand captain general; J. W. Widener, of Los Angeles, grand senior warden; Harry Walker, of Rochester, N. Y., grand junior warden; H. H. Lines, of Meriden, Conn., grand treasurer (re-elected); F. H. Johnson, of Louisville, Ky., grand recorder. Bishop Charles B. Mitchell, of St. Paul, was appointed to the post of grand prophet; other appointments were: F. H. Hetter, of Kansas City, grand sword-bearer; A. J. Agnew, of Milwaukee, grand warden; G. T. Campbell, of Owosso, Mich., grand standard-bearer; and John F. Hall, of Jacksonville, Fla., grand captain of the guard.

Colonial Style Is Standard

The cost of this home would approximate $8,485, according to the designers, the Curtis Service Bureau, of Clinton, Ia. This estimate is given tentatively, as it must be remembered that building costs vary in different localities.

One gets the impression of a large house, and yet it is only 34 feet 8 inches wide by 25 feet deep, occupying no more ground space than do most of the characterless dwellings that line most of our streets. In any neighborhood, this home would do credit to its owner's good taste, because it is in line with the best practices in architecture. All who have studied houses must have observed that there is always a return to the Colonial, and that this tendency is especially noticeable at the present time.

The layout of this house is severely rectangular, with strictly plain wall and roof surfaces, which means the greatest possible amount of room for the given expenditure. Notice the neatly molded cornice, the balanced chimneys and the symmetrical openings, all of which are typical of style. Because of the simplicity of the exterior, the attention is focused on the front entrance, the only place where elaboration is allowable. This entrance is particularly effective, with its eight-paneled Dutch door divided into upper and lower halves, side lights, and splendidly proportioned elliptical transom. It can be obtained in price as one might think.

Wide siding, painted white, is most attractive for homes of this general character. Attractive touches are color are introduced in the blue-green blinds, stained shingle roof, and brick copings of the cement chimneys. Exterior doors and mountings in the 12-

100 Gallon Still Was Captured

Federal and county officers captured a 100-gallon copper still and arrested one man near South Boston yesterday morning. The still was new and one of the best that has been found recently. The still was just found in the cold drizzling rain until 10 a. m. Friday morning for the moonshiners to put in their appearance. At 10 o'clock a negro, named William Young, at first thought, put in his appearance and was arrested. Second, though decided the negro to change his name to Cliff Rowe, and the officers knew of Cliff by reputation, which is a bad one. Cliff evidently bethought himself of this and finally gave his name as Carter Stafford.

Fourteen hundred gallons of beer in three five hundred gallon fermenters were found, as was full equipment for running a first-class still.

EEK PAYMENTS ON PLEDGES TO BAPTIST CAMPAIGN

RICHMOND, Va., April 28.—Leaders of the Baptist 75 million campaign in Richmond are in an intensive effort to secure large payments Sunday, April 30th on campaign pledges. The state subscribed for the five-year period $8,100,000, and the total subscription for the south was $92,000,000. On account of the great depression in all forms of business, the educational and eleemosynary work at home and in foreign countries are in debt and great embarrassment is threatened the Southern Baptist convention, which meets next month in Jacksonville, Fla. Last year Virginia and Maryland led all the states in the payment of pledges.

The directors of the campaign in Virginia are urging sacrificial giving on Sunday, April 30th, on the part of every member. The books are to be held open until May 3rd to allow church treasurers to get their remittances to the treasurer in Richmond in time to be counted on the convention day. Baptists in other similar campaigns have given great impetus to church life. Completely routing the talk prevalent during the war that there would be a falling off of interest in religion, there has been an unprecedented growth in the membership of churches and Sunday schools and the attendance at both has been greatly enlarged.

KIWANIANS CLOSE THEIR SESSIONS

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 28.—After selecting Asheville, N. C., as the next convention city and referring several matters to the board of trustees for action the Carolinas district convention of Kiwanis Clubs closed here tonight.

Edmund F. Arras, of Columbia, Ohio, international trustee, delivered two addresses today, one at a business session and again tonight at the closing banquet when addresses were also delivered by E. W. Sikes, president of Coker College, Hartsville, S. C., and William H. Fraser, president of Queen's College, Charlotte, N. C.

The next convention will be held in October, the exact dates to be fixed by the trustees. The clubs also referred to the trustees for action a proposal discussed by residents and secretaries that the district have a full time secretary.

Baptist of Danville

The Southern Baptist Convention year closes May 3d.

Sunday, April 30th is the last opportunity in Convention year to pay on pledges at the various local churches.

The obligations of the Foreign and Home Boards, very large, unless paid at once by the Baptists of the South, will make necessary large and most injurious curtailment of the work they are doing.

Every local Baptist is urged to go to Church Sunday with well filled envelopes for the Campaign fund.

All money credited to the Southern Baptist Convention year must be in the hands of Frank T. Crump, Treasurer, Old Dominion Trust Bldg., Richmond, Va., by Wednesday, May 3rd, when the books of the Convention Boards will close.

Virginia led all States at last year's Convention in Chattanooga. It can do the same at Jacksonville, if Baptists have the determination to meet their pledges.

Will Jail Dodgers Of Sunday School

YORK, Pa., April 28.—H. L. Haines, chief burglar of York, has ordered the arrest of any citizen seen on the street between 8 and 10 o'clock next Sunday morning.

Burgess Haines is not only the chief burglar of York, but is also teacher of the young men's Bible class of Bethany United Brethren Church, and his drastic order followed the issuance of a proclamation calling upon every citizen to attend Sabbath school.

York has 3,200 inhabitants and three churches. Last Sunday nearly three-fourths of the residents attended the Sunday schools.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" the blood and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Blind Girl Able To Define Color

Remarkable Demonstration
Given in Chicago by Willetta Huggins Before Doctors.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Willetta Huggins, seventeen, totally blind and deaf, has been brought here from the School for the Blind at Jamestown, Wis., to demonstrate senses of touch and smell that are so evidently super-normal as to astound physicians and scientists.

She was born in Eau Claire with defective vision and hearing, which continued to impair. Complete deafness overtook her at ten. At fifteen such of her sight as remained was destroyed by an illness.

Here is what she demonstrated in private tests today: She can hear over the telephone by placing her fingers on the receiver. She can hear persons talk by placing her fingers on their cheeks. The "vibrations," she says, convey the words to her.

She can read newspaper headlines by feeling of the letters. But she cannot read the body of the article as the letters are too small. She can tell the denomination of paper money by the same method.

She can hear a lecture or a concert by holding a thin sheet of paper between her fingers directed broadcast toward the volume of sound. She discerns colors by odors. Before the Chicago Medical Society she separated several skeins of yarns and correctly told the colors by smelling.

Among the experiments was one in which she rubbed her nose over a photograph and announced that it was a group picture of two men and a woman. It was.

She was given a knitted tie and asked its colors. She held it to her nose a moment and announced, correctly, "red, blue and brown."

Two years a teacher of the blind in Eau Claire told Willetta that Helen Keller's method, began to show mental development and then alertness. She learned to talk with people by placing her hands on the larynx or her finger tips on the head or chest of the speaker.

Psychologists had pronounced her subnormal when she entered the Jamestown school. She is well developed, dark and bob-haired, attractive and amiable.

Explosion of Illicit Still Kills Owner's Little Child

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—A 3-year-old boy was burned to death, one house was wrecked and seven others damaged today by the explosion of a still. The body of the child, a son of William Adamantus, a laborer, was found by firemen.

The still was in the rear yard of the Adamantus home on a coal stove. The boy was playing in the yard when, it is believed, embers from the stove ignited alcohol fumes from the cooking mash.

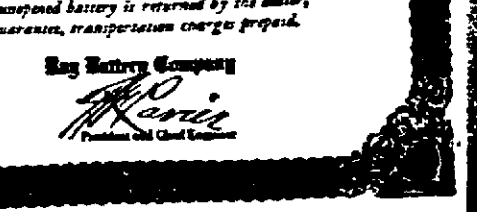

The blast shook adjoining houses and their occupants were knocked from their feet. Adamantus and his wife were arrested.

YOU WANT MORE BATTERY AND LESS SERVICE

Battery service is a bug-bear. What is useful to you is continuous, uninterrupted performance. You want to have a battery installed in your car and drive away, happy in the knowledge that it will be a ready reservoir of energy whenever you need it.

The Ray Battery gives guaranteed performance because of its famous Lavier Formula plates—the greatest advance in battery construction since the discovery of the wet cell. They are hard, to withstand the strain of service—highly porous to react quickly and surely to the electrolyte.

Kinston Tobacco Warehouses Pat

KINSTON, April 28.—The established local tobacco market became completely independent today with announcement by the Tobacco Board of Trade that "all warehouses in Kinston will be open for the sale of tobacco at auction August 8." The words "at auction" meant that the "old system" of independent warehouses would be in force at all houses supervised by the board of trade the coming season.

Two houses, the Central and Farmers', among the most modern in this section, had been "on the fence" some weeks. The owners of these were willing to turn them over to the co-operative organization under specified conditions, never made public here. That the negotiations fell down was indicated by official announcement of the board.

FAIL TO SECURE LYNCHBURG HOUSES

LYNCHBURG, April 28.—No warehouse facilities for the Co-operative Tobacco Growers' Association have been secured in Lynchburg by T. E. Chambers, of Blackstone, field warehouse agent for the association in the dark belt of Virginia, who said that he came to Lynchburg in an attempt to secure two warehouses for use by the marketing association and that he will leave without having secured what he sought.

Mr. Chambers said he tried first to secure the facilities wanted at the association in Lynchburg which has been recognized as the central marketing city of the section. Failing in this he plans to go to smaller places where he will try to establish markets.

Several conferences were held Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. Chambers said, with warehouse men and officials of the Chamber of Commerce, but without any result as far as securing floors for sales was concerned. Mr. Chambers said that he does not expect to return to the city unless an offer is made him by the warehousemen to spend his time securing market facilities in smaller localities.

Difficulties in the way of securing facilities in Danville are even worse than in Lynchburg, the field representative said.

DANVILLE WAREHOUSEMEN READY TO TALK TERMS

The Danville warehousemen are on record as being willing to discuss the terms for the sale or leasing of two pieces of property here if representatives of the association will come here and negotiate. A letter from the Danville Warehouse Corporation was sent to Tucker Watkins in March informing him of the company's willingness to deal with the association. Mr. Watkins replied that he might take the matter up later.

Employees Heads Bolt Hearing Of Rail Labor Board

CHICAGO, April 28.—Although executive heads of the railroad employees bolted from the wage hearing today at which outside organizations were allowed to give evidence on behalf of the public, it did not stop representation of the industrial side of the dispute in which the National Industrial Traffic League asked the Railroad Labor Board to throw out all controversy and revert the matter to the employees and the corporations.

The railroad men refused to sit in the hearing when J. H. Libby started to introduce the shippers' views. Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the employees, in a protest said that the employees "are not going to be placed in the position of being drawn into another hearing."

"As far as the men are concerned the hearing is closed and we desire to make no rebuttal to the evidence now introduced as suggested by the board," he added. "We could bring in small shippers in to testify that the railroad men are not deserving of a wage decrease and for that organization representing the shippers we could bring in 100 witnesses to testify that the board should not decrease wages."

The employees also presented a brief in which they protested the bringing in of outside parties not interested in the dispute.

In ruling that the outsiders had a right to intervene, not as a party to the dispute, but as outsiders, Ben G. Hooper, chairman, said:

"The board holds that these parties cannot intervene here as parties to the dispute because the statute does not authorize it, but the board has the power to hear such evidence if it so desires, without obligating itself to do so at other hearings. The board has, in this instance, not gone out of its way and asked these men to appear here."

The railroad men then walked out. Outside organizations represented included the Industrial Traffic League and the National Industrial Conference Board. Chairs were presented tending show that before 1918 wages in outside industries were less than those in railroad work, but that now the two were about equal.

Two of Six Negro Lunatics Who Escaped Still at Large

PETERSBURG, April 28.—Raymond Lee, one of the six negro lunatics who escaped from the Central State Hospital here Tuesday night, gave himself up to the authorities at Burkeville yesterday morning or the night previous, according to information received at the institution. Persistent reports that he had been captured at Lynchburg were denied.

Lee is the "trustee" who aided the other five to escape. He is now being held at Burkeville, where information given by him is expected to be of material assistance in locating the two still at large. Guards last night are reported to have found a warm trail, but no word has as yet been received of the apprehension of these two. The others, captured in the vicinity of Crewe, were returned to the institution yesterday.

When Higher Prices Are Paid For Tobacco

They Will Be Paid on the Warehouse Floor

American Industries, engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of tobacco, represents a development of more than a century and has grown from a small beginning to a business of such magnitude and efficiency, until it has no parallel in history. Great organizations, with unlimited capital and with the most efficient selling organizations that the world has ever known, have carried American Tobaccos into all parts of the world. In Europe, Asia and the remote corners of the globe American tobacco is bought and sold as a result of the business energy of American manufacturers, but all the brains, energy and business skill of American business men cannot create an unreasonable demand, or sell tobacco to those who will not buy.

The Law of Supply and Demand

Will Determine Prices

When the tobacco crop exceeds the annual consumption, there will be a slow demand and low prices and when there is a short crop the demand will be greater and prices higher. It is just as easy to disregard the Laws of Gravitation as to ignore the Law of Supply and Demand!

The Tobacco Buyers of the World Bid For

Your Tobacco In Danville Warehouses

Leaf Tobacco must be put into proper shape before it can be passed on to the consumer—It has no market except at the door of the tobacco factory, where it is prepared for public consumption. The Auction Sale Warehouses provide a place where the grower and the factory meet, where the manufacturers come to buy your tobacco. On the floors of the Danville warehouses the tobacco buyers of the world bid for your tobacco in open competition.

No one can predict what the price of tobacco will be next season, or the next, but the size and quality of the crop will have more effect on the price paid than all the buying and selling organizations in the world.

The Danville Warehouses have always secured the highest price for the farmers' tobacco and with a record of more than half a century of service to the farmers of this section, they offer today the best possible means and the best selling system for the marketing of tobacco, that can possibly be devised.

To the farmers who have patronized the warehouse in the past, we want to say with confidence and sincerity, that when a better service can be rendered it will be rendered by the present warehouse system and when better prices are paid for tobacco, they will be paid on the warehouse floor.

Sales Will Begin For the 1922-23 Season On October 2nd.

Yours For Service,

FORMER FIANCE OF DEAD GIRL IS HELD BY POLICE

HOPESTON, Ill. April 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—Pending further questioning of J. C. Wynne, former fiance of Miss Gertrude Hanna, 25-year-old school teacher whose body was found in the basement of the unoccupied parsonage of the First United Presbyterian church yesterday, no further steps had been taken tonight to examine the victim of the girl.

The vital organs were held by Dr. J. G. Fisher, physician at Danville, pending the outcome of the interrogation, before they are sent to the University of Illinois for chemical analysis.

According to W. T. Hanna, father of the girl, Wynne, a widower whose home is in Palestine, Ill., formerly resided at the Hanna home and had been engaged to Miss Hanna. The engagement was broken last November, Hanna said, and Wynne was asked to leave the Hanna home.

Dr. Fisher, after an autopsy today, expressed the opinion that the girl had died of suffocation. The girl's hands were clasped on her breast when the body was found on the ledge in the parsonage. No other proof that she had been there.

BOAT HAD NOT BEEN TAMPERED WITH REPORTED

CINCINNATI, April 28.—Following an inspection today of the steamer Island Queen, and the hearing of testimony of several members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, inspectors reported today that the boat had not been tampered with.

The boat, which slipped from its supporting stanchion at the bow of the boat, was found in excellent condition. The inspectors said their investigation had been responsible for the collapse of the front part of the upper decks of the steamer and the consequent injury of more than a score of persons yesterday.

The deck fell when the boat was in the big presidential river flotilla with an assemblage on board of the most distinguished passengers in its history.

The inspectors said their investigation had been responsible for the collapse of the front part of the upper decks of the steamer and the consequent injury of more than a score of persons yesterday.

THOUSANDS CHEER WOODROW WILSON

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Several thousand women including numerous delegates to the Baltimore convention of the National League of Women Voters and to the convention here of the League of American Pen-Women, cheered former President Wilson in a demonstration before his home late today.

The cheering brought Mr. Wilson to the door and upon requests for a speech he declared that while he appreciated the compliment very much he felt he was not strong enough to make a speech.

I will repeat for you one of my favorite maxims which runs as follows:

For beauty I am no ear
My face I don't mind it
Because I'm behind it.

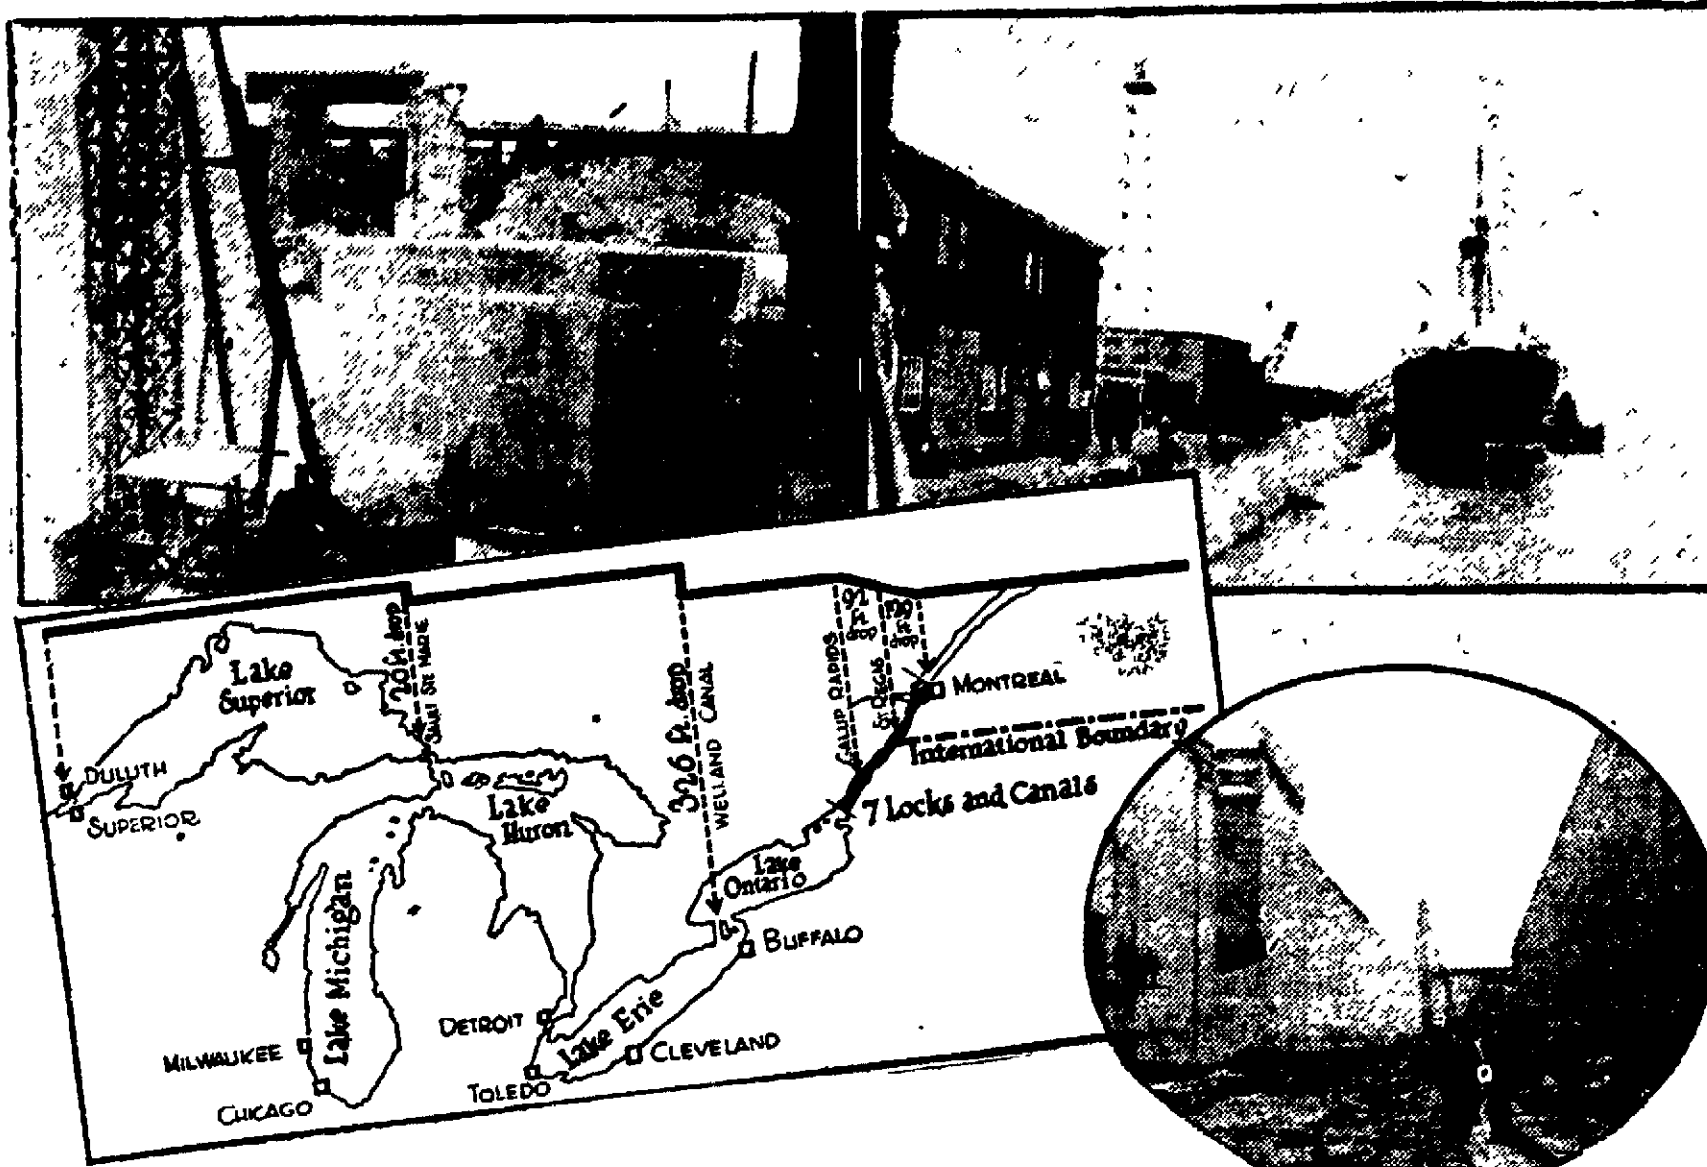

The rest of the verse is lost in a burst of laughter and cheering that lasted for blocks.

The former president made his first appearance resting heavily on a cane and escorted by a negro butler. He was a tired in a black frock coat and top hat and smilingly greeted his visitors. Doffing his hat and hanging it in the pocket of his cane, he bowed and then said:

Thank you very much for the compliment. I appreciate it very much. I am sorry I am not strong enough to make a speech.

Mr. Wilson then turned to the ladies and then the cheering inno-

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Backers of a proposal to connect the Great Lakes with the Atlantic by a deep channel have high hopes that the Harboring administration will soon take definite and favorable action.

Charles L. Clark of Duluth, Minn., executive director of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association, who was recently here in the interests of the project said:

The next step we look for is an agreement between the United States and Canada covering the development and use of the waterway. This can be accomplished either by negotiations between the executives of the

It was then that Mr. Wilson repeated his favorite maxim. For several minutes he and Mrs. Wilson remained at the window while the women visitors sang songs and applauded intermittently until the window was closed.

Meanwhile opposition to the project is getting better organized. Opponents of the measure largely from New York and New England agree that the plan is feasible from an engineering viewpoint but declare that it is not worth the price.

They point out that the tentative cost of the engineering work—some- where between $250,000,000 and $500,000,000—is only a beginning in the price to be paid for a 25 foot channel from Chicago and Duluth to

BANK PROMOTER GIVEN YEAR IN PENITENTIARY

NORFOLK, Va. April 28.—James E. Woodhouse, former president of the Bank of South Norfolk two years ago, was sentenced to the Circuit Court of Norfolk county yesterday of embezzling over $20,000 collected from the 250 stockholders in subscriptions on their stock. He was given a year in the penitentiary.

Woodhouse was on the witness stand for seven hours as the concluding witness in the court drama. He defended himself against the charge of willful misuse of the funds by asserting the money had been spent in constant overhead expenses and also asserted that a good deal of the missing money was lawfully spent the late Captain Niles who conducted the work of the organization. The defendant said he received a salary of $50 a week and never received any of the missing money.

Woodhouse was unable to give an accounting of how much money was spent, declaring that the books had been lost in his absence. He said he offered security in land as soon as he discovered the shortage. P. B. Percant a witness for the defense corroborated

What Plans Call For

The project as at present outlined is to enlarge the Welland canal with locks 800 feet long 80 feet wide and 25 feet deep. This would permit large vessels to pass around Niagara Falls. Work on the Welland canal is now being done by the Canadian government. In addition the proposal includes dredging and lock building from Lake Ontario to Montreal where about 30 miles of canal operation is required. This 40-mile stretch is now

GREENVILLE, S. C., IS SELECTED BY GOOD ROADS ASS'N

PHOENIX, Ariz. April 28.—Greenville, S. C. was selected as the 1932 meeting place by the United States Good Roads Association and the Bankhead National Highway Association at the close of their annual convention here today.

The Bankhead Association at a separate session ratified the Texas-Mexico division of the Bankhead highway, connecting the national capitals of the United States and Mexico.

All executive officers, State vice presidents and State directors were selected by the Bankhead organization. Colonel Bennet Cameron, of North Carolina again was named president. Leon G. Jones, Alabama, was re-elected treasurer and J. A. Rountree, also of Alabama was chosen director-general for the seventh consecutive year.

With visions of having their products carried from Great Lake ports to all parts of the world by boat, the following 18 states have committed themselves to support the project, by legislative action or declaration of their governors: Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah and Oregon.

DEMOCRATS RECOMMEND NO SPECIAL ELECTION

GOLDSBORO, N. C. April 28.—The Democratic Congressional committee of the third North Carolina district in a called session here today decided to recommend to the governor that no special election be called to select a candidate for the unexpired term of the late Congressman Samuel M. Binson.

It was the opinion of the committee that the candidate selected in the primaries of June 3 be declared the nominee for the short term election to be called at such time as the governor chooses.

SESSION OF DAIL WAS UNEXPECTEDLY QUIET

DUBLIN, April 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Today's session of the Dail Eireann was unexpectedly quiet. There was evidence a desire not to pursue yesterday's personal recriminations and when Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, urged the necessity owing to the grave state of the country, of the Dail remaining in session from week to week, and there was a general approval. Later it was decided to adjourn the session to next Wednesday the motion for adjournment being agreed to without division.

A MYSTERY THRILLER WITH THE ADDED ASSET OF TIMELINESS

Those feverish days of '49 were tame and quiet compared to the high flyin' years when the movies poured gold into California.

Mediocre actresses shot into stardom; photographers jumped into directorships at all boys salaries; peddlers became magnates. Money, money, money!—and all of it new!

Months ago Vance was discussing the "fast set" with two of his friends, a famous star and her equally famous director-husband. They agreed that a "bust" was overdue. They predicted that the excesses of the conspicuous element in Hollywood were bound to lead to tragedy.

"Great setting for a novel," said Vance. And that's how "Linda Lee, Inc." came to be written. Speed—action—mystery—romance—adventure—passion—all the ingredients of a tremendously successful popular novel are here.

The Bee is giving its readers this feature while public attention is focused on that part of the movie world which couldn't stand prosperity. The newspaper release, too, comes almost simultaneously with the publication of the novel in book form, at $2.00 a copy.

MORSE CHARGES ATTEMPT TO RUIN HIM AND HIS SONS

BATH, Maine, April 28.—Charles W. Morse, who with other men associated with the United States Steamship Company, was indicted in New York yesterday on the charge of using the mails to defraud investors, and today that this investigation was made by the same clerks in the shipping board who "investigated us previously."

"The shipping board," he said, "not having the money to pay our company what is due them, and our company having refused to give them any money they proceeded to attack our concerns, criminally, if possible to intimidate us and to stop our company from proceeding to enforce their claims in the courts; also to deter many others with similar claims from trying to collect their just dues."

"This case, as did a similar one, brought by the same parties, attorneys and witnesses and given the same amount of publicity when I was in France, will fall flat when it is brought to trial."

EXTRA WATCHMEN ARE EMPLOYED

APOLLO, Pa., April 28.—Extra watchmen have been employed and arrangements made tonight to place huge search lights about sleeping quarters of the Patterson mine of the Kiski Valley Coal Company at West Apollo, where three non-union miners were killed and another was seriously injured today. A bomb hurled through a window of a frame shack in which eight men were sleeping destroyed the building.

Ten unidentified men also were said to have been seen in the vicinity. The deaths of the three men, one of whom picked up the bomb, only to have it explode in his arms, left fourteen children fatherless.

Work at the mine was resumed today, three extra police were detailed from the Butler barracks to aid other officers from a sub station at Leechburg, but it was evening they had announced no clue to the identity of the dynamiters.

JURY IS STILL OUT.

HENDERSON, N. C., April 28.—The jury in the case of George Wyckoff, W. W. Wooten, and R. T. Stokes, Henderson, men charged with arson as the result of a series of fires of alleged incendiary origin here in January, was unable to reach a verdict tonight and will continue its deliberations tomorrow.

MISS RAPP'S FORMER FIANCE WEDS ACTRESS

SANTA ANA, Calif., April 28.—Henry Lehrman motion picture producer, was married here yesterday to Miss Joseph Leuch former actress, it was learned today. The two motored from Los Angeles and sought to avoid publicity.

Mr. Lehrman was the fiance of Miss Virginia Rapp, a house coach, after a party in San Francisco, resulted in the arrest of Roscoe C. ("Patty") Arbuckle, and his subsequent acquittal on a manslaughter charge.

POSTPONED OPENER WILL BE PLAYED HERE AT 4 TODAY

No games were played in the Piedmont League yesterday on account of wet grounds. Subject to weather conditions the club managements announced last night over long distance telephone that there would be double-headers between Winston-Salem and Greensboro at Greensboro and High Point and Durham at Durham. Danville and Raleigh will not play a double-header here.

Owner Hatcher said last night that it was not customary to pull a double-header on the opening day and that it was doubtful if the local grounds would be dry enough to play upon before 4 o'clock, even though it should not rain any more.

Should there be no more rain and other conditions are favorable Danville will open up here today at 4 o'clock with Raleigh.

WINNERS IN JOURNALISTIC CONTEST ARE ANNOUNCED

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 28.—Announcement of winners in two contests staged by the Southern Interstate Newspaper Association were made tonight at the annual association banquet, a feature of the annual convention now in session here, as follows:

In the journalistic contest, the Emory Wheel, published by students of Emory University, Atlanta, first place; The Richmond Collegian, of the University of Richmond, second place; and Orange and White, of the University of Tennessee, third place.

The editorial writing contest William Swoll Sayer, of Emory University, first place; C. G. Broome, of Mercer University, second place; Seth M. Vining, of Piedmont College, third place. The district comprising the two Carolinas, Alabama and Georgia won the membership prize.

The convention began this morning and will continue throughout tomorrow afternoon. Charles F. Leek, of the University of Richmond, is president. Numbers of addresses and discussions were heard today.

SCOTTSBURG IS WINNER OF GAME

SCOTTSBURG, April 28.—The team of the Scottsburg High school defeated the Halifax High school team yesterday by the score of 11 to 3, thus clinching the county championship. This makes the second time in two years that the county championship has been won by the local high nine.

The pitching of Valdeen for the home team and the hitting of Moore, who knocked a home run, featured the game.

The Danville High school team will play Scottsburg today on the latter's grounds. Darlington will pitch for Danville, while Barksdale will be on the mound for the Halifax county lads.

SUIT NOT DISMISSED

KANSAS CITY, Kans., April 28.—The suit brought in the United States district court here by the United Mine Workers of America to test the validity of the Kansas industrial court law was not dismissed yesterday, as was erroneously stated. Judge John C. Pollock told The Associated Press today hearing on the suit was suspended, he said, because of errors in the plaintiffs' petition and they were given 30 days in which to file an amended petition correcting these errors.

TAXES MUST BE PAID ON GIFTS TO W. W. FOUNDATION

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Publication of a letter from Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair to Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, ruling that contributions to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation could not be deducted by taxpayers from their taxable income brought from revenue officials today the statement that a formal explanation would be made as to why different rulings were handed down with respect to the Roosevelt Memorial Association and the McKinley Memorial Association.

In the absence of Mr. Blair, Assistant Commissioner Smith declared that the bureau would make public an explanation of its interpretation of the law holding that contributions to the latter associations might be deducted from income. However, no formal statement was forthcoming from the bureau today, although its experts were said to be at work on the matter.

DYE EMBARGO IS ENDORSED BY N. C. COTTON M'FRS

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., April 28.—Resolutions adopted by the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association in annual session here today, endorsed the "present qualified embargo on foreign dyes" and urged congressmen from this State to give the "organic chemical provisions" of the bill recently reported to the Senate their earnest support.

Other features of the day were addressed by Dr. Charles E. Eaton, on "Wage System," and by Dr. Charles H. Herty, of New York, on the domestic dye situation.

SMALL TRIAL DRAGS ON

WAUKEGAN, Ill., April 28.—(Associated Press)—Trial of Governor Len Small, charged with conspiracy to embezzle state funds, ended the first week tonight with four jurors selected and sworn and lawyers still trying to fill the second panel.

Time and again today the eight men, apparently had been found, but just as prospects looked bright, one side or the other would exercise a peremptory challenge, and the work would start over again. Five peremptories were used during the day, three by the State and two by the defense.

M'GRAW HOLDS TRADE RECORDS

Connie Mack is a developer of ball players. Connie is also fairly strong on selling them for real cash. John McGraw of the Giants is a "go get 'em" manager. When he wants to strengthen his ball club he puts over a trade.

McGraw is generally regarded as the champion trader of all times. In less than 22 ball players have been involved in his so-called big deals. Charles Herzog has been McGraw's most traded ball player.

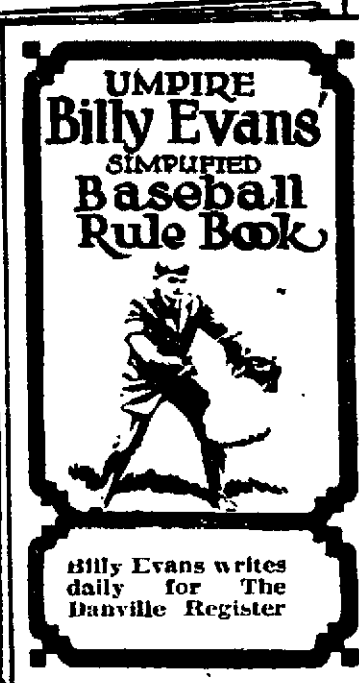

In 1906 he traded Herzog to Boston for Beals Becker. In 1911 he sent Brindell and Hank Gowdy to Boston for Herzog. In 1914 he traded Herzog and Catcher Hartley to Cincinnati for Bob Bescher.

In 1917 he decided he again needed Herzog to bolster up his infield and sent Housh, McKechnie and Mathewson to Cincinnati for Herzog.

In 1918 he traded Herzog to Boston for Larry Doyle and Jesse Barney and cash.

A Flower-Like Charm To Petal Frocks

THE clever bud who chooses such a charming dancing frock as this could turn into almost any sort of flower—excepting, of course, a wall-flower.

It's one of the daintiest of evening dresses with its slightly bloused bodice and the long petal panels that are rounded at the bottom instead of being pointed as they were last season.

The modest V-shaped décolletage is most flattering to one's shoulders and the gown is sleeveless, of course, for evening wear.

Picot edging on the peck and panels is the only finishing needed, unless one wants a single gorgeous flower to splash across the side. Taffeta is the best material just for the charm of its rustling buoyancy.

Logan County Episodes Come Up In Court

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., April 23.—(Associated Press)—"Mother" Jones' appeal to a large gathering at Marmet last August to return to their homes, and the posting of armed guards to prevent departure of any of the men after the meeting were related in the testimony of four witnesses today. The only feature of the circuit court session today was appearance of Governor Morgan as a witness for the State in the trial of William Blizard for treason.

The governor arrived about noon on a flying visit from the capitol, was on the witness stand in the afternoon and as soon as his testimony was finished was permitted to leave. His testimony concerned the martial law enforcement in Mingo county and the activities of his office in sending of United States troops and their cessation of fighting. J. F. Stewart, first witness to go on the stand in the treason cases, was a miner living in Dry Branch, who said he was still a member of the union. When he was asked about meetings of bodies of men which he observed on Lens creek, near Marmet, the first of a series of objections with which the defense battled question after question through the day, was raised as to whether the designation in the indictment "at or near Marmet" was sufficient to cover the assembly described by the witness. After considerable further testimony had been taken Judge J. M. Woods overruled the objection. The witness told of three visits to Lens creek, each time he said 5,000 were present on the occasion of his last visit, when he heard Mother Jones speak, and that she counseled "the boys" that they were violating the law and to go home.

"I did not see anything that Mr. Blizard did that was wrong, at all," he insisted when asked what happened next, and finally testified that C. Keeney, president of the district 17 of the mine union, had denounced as a "fake" a telegram Mother Jones exhibited, as coming from the president. Keeney offered to go to Charleston to learn if the telegram was genuine, the witness said, and Keeney and District Secretary Fred Monney left camp in Stewart's automobile, with Mrs. Stewart and other members of the family while he stayed in camp. He did not see Blizard after that time, he testified.

Mrs. Stewart gave the same testimony as to Mother Jones' speech but did not hear any further speeches. Arrived men crowded them on the road when she and Mr. Keeney and Mr. Monney left, and Keeney said this is Mr. Keeney, according to her testimony.

I can't help it," she said the guard answered, "I have orders to stop every man" to which the district president said, "I'm the man who gives the orders." They were finally allowed to proceed after Keeney had "given his hand on it" that he was going to Charleston to learn about the telegram and would return.

Two Astors Have Busy Day In City On the Potomac

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Lord and Lady Astor came to Washington today from Baltimore, were guests at a luncheon at the capitol, spoke at the National Press Club and later in the day attended a reception given by Mrs. Charles E. Hughes at the Pan-American conference of women. Tonight they attended a meeting at Continental Memorial Hall for the Pan-American women's conference at which the speakers were Secretary Hughes and members of the diplomatic corps.

From the time of her arrival Lady Astor was the center of admiring groups. After the luncheon at the capitol where she was the guest of Senator Swanson, of Virginia, her native State, and at which she met the entire Virginia delegation in Congress, and the members of the Virginia branch of the National League of Women Voters, she and Lord Astor were guests of the Press Club, where both spoke on national and international questions.

"My view is," Lady Astor said in her address, "that the men must look to the women for moral help in their struggle to accomplish world-wide things. I believe in one moral law and I believe that it is incumbent upon the women to do their share in aiding the men in their battles. Women are misunderstood, and it should be their function to dispel this wrong idea. Men will continue to misunderstand until they are made to understand. I recall during the war my experiences with Americans who came across. They did not understand conditions, of course, when they arrived."

"I talked with a crowd of fine fellows one day and I called a spade a spade," she said. "They talked with money and I knew what they had in mind. I said to them: You fellows are going out and perhaps drink too much and perhaps flirt a little. But in the morning you will have a headache and regret the time wasted. You won't think it was a good time at all." I talked so frankly to these men that one big fellow with a solemn face, sided up to me and said: "Lady Astor, you have ruined my honor."

"This is the function of the woman. If she makes herself understood and exercises the proper influence, she will become a great force in the world for good."

Lord Astor complimented the American press on the thoroughness and accuracy with which he said the Geneva conference was being interpreted by American newspaper men attending the conference.

"The conference," he said, "has not failed. It has made the world know what the problems of Europe really are and what they mean. So long as the conference was involved in discussion or settlement of domestic European affairs it was, of course, proper that America should stay out. But I regret that America has seen fit not to participate in this great conference for the benefit it would have on world peace."

Lady Astor is expected to be the guest tomorrow of Senator Swanson on the floor of the Senate to which she has the privilege as a member of the British Parliament. Later in the day she will participate in the opening of the new headquarters of the National League of Women Voters. On Sunday she will be tendered a reception by General Pershing and will probably leave Monday or Tuesday for Philadelphia to address a meeting at the Academy of Music.
